Advice for young people while schools are closed

The Government has made a decision to close all schools in Ireland in order to slow down the spread of the COVID-19 virus in Ireland and keep as many people as possible safe and well. In addition to this, people have been asked to stay at home and to practice social/physical distancing. We have not been in this situation before, so this is new to us all, but if we follow the right advice we will get through this, and in time we will be proud of how we responded, working together to support our country.

You have a part to play in this. Some of you may be doing okay with staying at home, some of you may be bored and fed up and others may be feeling worried or anxious. We are all adjusting and adapting. When trying to think about how you can support yourself, your family, your community and your country, remember these three key messages:

Stay Responsible & Informed
Stay Active & Connected
Stay Positive & Calm

Follow the HSE advice on its website on protecting yourself, practicing social/physical distancing and on ways to avoid spreading the virus.

Remember that the Government is working hard to ensure that people throughout the country stay healthy and safe.

Without the facts we may believe rumours and imagine situations far worse than reality. Stick to reliable, trustworthy sources of information such as the HSE, the Department of Health, the Department of Education and Skills, the World Health Organization and trustworthy mainstream news sources, such as RTÉ. All sources available here.

Keep up-to-date with information posted on the Department of Education and Skills' Twitter account.

Take breaks from the news and social media as this makes us less vulnerable to 'fake news' and limits our exposure to unhelpful or inaccurate information.

Remember, too, that not everyone will get the virus and the vast majority who get it will recover fully. At times like this we all need to support each other:

- o Be kind and look out for each other.
- o Remember no individual or group is 'responsible' for the virus.
- o If people you know get the virus remember that it's not their fault. They have been unlucky and need our support.

Stay active & connected

Routines and schedules are the key to getting through this new phase of our lives. Making our days structured and predictable will help us feel secure and reassured. Schools have closed and this has changed our regular daily routines.

During this time of COVID-19 let's create new routines. Keeping busy, having a sense of purpose and feeling in control of our time is very important. We can help ourselves get through this time by creating a Plan for the Day, every evening for the day ahead (see link at end). Following the normal school day can be a guide. When creating a Plan for the Day think about the following:

Include some basic daily activities:

Sleep is good for your health and wellbeing so it's important to get plenty of sleep – eight to twelve hours is recommended for young people. Leaving your phone, laptop, tablet outside of your bedroom will help you to get a better night's sleep. It's also important to eat healthily, to drink lots of water and to take care of personal hygiene. Aim to include sleep, taking exercise, showering and getting dressed into your daily routine.

(Remember to discuss your plan with your family to make sure that your plan for meals, computer time, showering etc. works for everyone.)

Include some physical activity & housework:

- o Going for a walk or run, doing weights, jumping on a trampoline, following an exercise routine on line or by using an App. If possible try some physical activity outdoors and get some sunshine and fresh air but stay within 2 kilometres of your home, keeping 2 metres distance from other people.
- o Tidying your room (make your bed/keep your space clean and tidy).
- o Helping with the housework (empty and load the dishwasher, mow the lawn, wash the car, vacuum, help with the shopping, with cooking, with washing & ironing).

Include some social activity:

o We all find it hard to be away from our friends, to practice physical/social distancing and to stay at home. Use technology to stay in touch. (Our country really needs your help with this.)

o If you have relatives, family or neighbours who may be lonely or who live alone, why not give them a call? Remember in particular older relatives.

o Connect with your family. Find similar interests and plan to watch TV together, play board games/make a jigsaw or help with the housework together. Maybe you can help a younger brother or sister with their schoolwork.

Include enjoyable and creative activities:

o Try something new. Use YouTube<sup>1</sup> to take up a new hobby.

o Do a crossword, read, draw, paint, write or listen to music.

o Capture each day by documenting it through writing, recording or photography. Keep a journal/diary of this time. It might be something that you will really value in the future.

o Write/email a letter to a friend, relative or elderly neighbour.

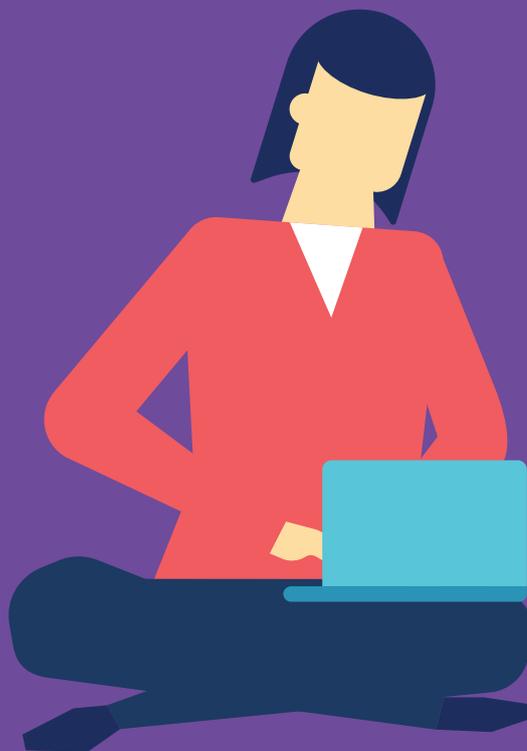

o Watch a favourite TV programme.

o Share and enjoy fun TikToks<sup>2</sup> with friends.

o Prepare a meal. Bake a cake.

Include schoolwork:

o It is important that your new routine on weekdays mirrors the normal school day, as much as possible. One option may be to follow the order of subjects as they appear on your usual school timetable.

o Another option may be to take a short break after what is the usual length of a class period in your school.

o It is important that you make time each day to complete some schoolwork. Keep a log of what you have worked on each day.

o Your school may be using technology to support your education at this time. Remember to check the school website and your email regularly for messages from your school.

o It is often hard to stay focused when working alone at home. This is normal. Taking regular breaks and rewarding yourself is key to staying motivated.

Stay positive & calm

Over the next few weeks you may have lots of different feelings. It may all feel a bit unreal. You may feel anxious, sad, afraid, fed up, angry, shocked or even numb. You may feel nothing at all. This is all ok and these are all normal and healthy reactions to stressful situations, such as the COVID-19 outbreak. There is no 'right' or 'wrong' way to feel. If your feelings and reactions seem different from those of our friends, remember that everyone reacts differently. There are things you can do, to help, such as:

- o Talk to family and friends about your feelings. Sharing our thoughts or worries with others really does help.

- o Remember that there are a lot of rumours and 'fake news' going around at the moment. If you are worried about them, talk to an adult or parent.

- o Get your information from a reliable source.

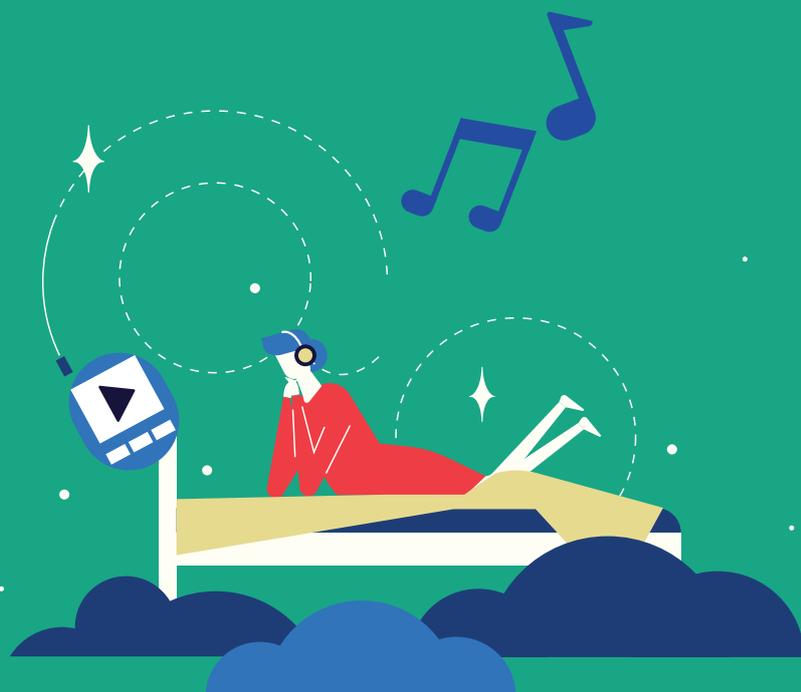

- o Continually talking about COVID-19 or watching constant updates on it can increase your anxiety. Try to limit accessing information on the internet/television/social media that might be upsetting to you.

- o COVID-19 will pass and life will get back to normal.

- o Look at this break from your normal routine as a time to pay attention to yourself and make a special effort to take care of yourself. Try to get some extra sleep, eat nutritious foods and get some exercise, even if it is just a walk.

- o Practice some relaxation techniques (see link at end).

- o Do something you enjoy. Think about something that makes you feel good, then make it happen – like listening to music, going for walks, doing an exercise routine, watching a funny movie. Remember laughter is good medicine!
